Amit Chaudhuri is an award-winning novelist, poet, and critic. He is a Fellow of the Royal Society of Literature, and is Professor of Contemporary Literature at the University of East Anglia.

He is also a trained and critically acclaimed singer in the North Indian classical tradition. In 2004, he conceptualized his project in experimental music 'This is Not Fusion', which has been performed worldwide. A CD of that name was released on the British independent jazz label Babel Label in 2009. In October 2010, his second CD 'Found Music' came out. It was an allaboutjazz.com Editor's Choice of 2010.

He is accompanied by Matt Hodges of Matt Hodges Jazz Band from Norfolk, UK, an experienced jazz musician whose repertoire ranges from smooth background jazz to up-tempo swing, lively latin and classic soul & funk.
