

Yearbook for Eastern and Western Philosophy

Vol. 1

PREFACE

Xie Dikun (Beijing)

The current situation, problems and tasks facing Chinese philosophy (17 p.)

Hans Feger (Berlin)

Chinese Philosophy – Philosophy in China (6 p.)

I. PUBLIC SPHERE AND GLOBALIZATION - 公共领域与全球化

Stefan Gosepath (Berlin)

Public Sphere and Globalization (15 p.)

Robin Celikates (Amsterdam)

Digitalization: Another Structural Transformation of the Public Sphere? (20 p.)

II. FUNDAMENTAL PHILOSOPHICAL QUESTIONS IN PUBLIC SPHERE - 公共领域的哲学基础问题

Bernhard Jakl (Frankfurt am Main)

Pluralism, Autonomy and Public Deliberation. A legal-philosophical perspective (15 p.)

Andrea Marlen Esser (Jena)

Kant on the Public Sphere and Some Reflections on Hanna Arendt and the Contemporary Intercultural Discussion (20 p.)

Hans Feger (Berlin)

The Public Sphere and the Faculty of Judgment: Hannah Arendt's Theses on Public Opinion (12 p.)

Wang Wen-Sheng (Taipei)

On Political Freedom in Public Sphere in View of the Contrast Between Téchne and Túche – A Comparison Between Arendt and Heidegger (19 p.)

Chow Pak Kiu (Hong Kong)

Habermas on Instrumental Reasoning in Public Sphere (10 p.)

III. PUBLIC SPHERE AND ETHICS - 公共领域与伦理

Günter Zöllner (München)

Republicity. The Forensic Form of Life (18 p.)

Hauke Brunkhorst (Lüneburg)

Changing Imperial Mindset. The Public Sphere of Public Law (11 p.)

Regina Kreide (Giessen)

Communicative Power and the Public Sphere. A Defense of a Deliberative Model of Politics (21 p.)

IV. THE PROBLEM OF PUBLIC SPHERE IN ASIAN CULTURES - 东方文化中的公共领域问题

Heiner Roetz (Bochum)

Public Sphere and Open Society from the Perspective of Axial Age China (20 p.)

Philippe Brunozi (Berlin)

Public Sphere and Collective Reasoning - Remarks on some Trends in Chinese Political Philosophy" (ca. 10 p.)

Ole Döring (Berlin)

The Confucian concept of „cheng“ (integrity) in relation to Publicity and Justice. An ethical and methodological enquiry" (ca. 10 p.)

V. PUBLIC SPHERE AND DEMOCRACY - 公共领域与民主

Georg Lohmann (Magdeburg)

National and International Public Spheres and the Protection of Human Rights (16 p.)

Zhao Dunhua (Peking)

International Justice: The Limit of Social Publicity (15 p.)

Gertrud Koch (Berlin)

Mass Mediated Public Space between Representation and Communication (14 p.)

Beate Roessler (Amsterdam)

Privacy and/in Public Sphere (20 p.)

VI. PUBLICITY AND JUSTICE

Deng Xiaomang (Wuhan)

Origins of Justice Theory in China and West (15 p.)

Wilhelm Schmidt-Biggemann (Berlin)

Representation and Publicity – historical (ca. 10 p.)

Walter Pfannkuche (Kassel)

Legitimacy of Law (ca. 10 p.)

Han Shuifa (Peking)

Justice, Primary Goods and Public Reason (15 p.)

Henning Hahn (Kassel)

Whistleblowing: A Legitimate Practice of Global Civil Disobedience or a Misconstruction of the Global Public? (ca. 10 p.)

VII. MISCELLANEOUS

Chen Lai (Beijing)

Practical Wisdom in Confucian Philosophy (14 p.)

Liu Xiaoli (Beijing)

The Challenges of Cognitive Science to Philosophy (21 p.)

Ni Liangkang (Guangzhou)

On “Intentionality” and “Meta-Intentionality” in Eastern and Western Philosophies of Consciousness (20 p.)

Wu Xiaoming (Shanghai)

Marx’s Theory of the Historical Path and its Commitment to Concretization (17 p.)

Li Cun Shan ()

Characteristics of Chinese Philosophy and the Chinese National Spirit (17 p.)

(426 p.)