

Workshop with Brook Ziporyn on his new Translation of Daodejing, Laozi

»The Daodejing not only talks about how something valueless and indeterminate can generate and enable all manner of values and contents but actually enacts it, actually shows it happening: exemplifying and performing this very generating and enabling of manifold meanings and contents just by being so insistently slippery, so adamantly resistant to being pinned down, so relentlessly indeterminable.«
