Images and pictures are the subjects of an James Elkins is currently E.C. Chadbourne Organized by enormous literature, little of which articulates Chair in the Department of Art History, what might make visual objects different from Theory, and Criticism at the School of the Graduiertenkolleg Schriftbildlichkeit written objects. Few critics, historians, or Art Institute of Chicago. His writing fo- (FU Berlin) philosophers develop theories of the visual, or cuses on the history and theory of images www.schriftbildlichkeit.de of visual objects; most work empirically, rely- in art, science, and nature. Some of his contact: Mark Halawa. ing on received accounts for foundational con-books are exclusively on fine art, halawa@zedat.fu-berlin.de ceptualizations of what visual objects are and What Painting Is (Routledge, 2000), and how they create meaning. As a result, acade- Why Are Our Pictures Puzzles? (Rout- Graduiertenkolleg Sichtbarkeit und mia and the art world tend to operate pragma- ledge, 1999). Others include scienti- Sichtbarmachung (Universität Potsdam) tically, assuming that the nature of the visual is fic and non-art images, writing systems, www.uni-potsdam.de/visibility well understood. Foundational issues remain and archaeology, The Domain of Images contact: Lenore Hipper. unexplored: What are the optimal accounts of (Cornell University Press, 2001), On lenore.hipper@uni-potsdam.de what visual objects are, and how they create Pictures and the Words That Fail Them meaning? What is the effect of deferring work (Cambridge University Press, 1998), and some on the nature of images, even as the literature are about natural history, How to Use Your Eyes on them builds exponentially? This lecture is a (Routledge, 2000). survey of the principal theories and problems Current projects include a series called the and the current state of visual studies.

Stone Summer Theory Institutes, a book called The Project of Painting: 1900-2000, and a series called Theories of Modernism and Postmodernism in the Visual Art.

James Elkins

What is an Image? -Unsolved Problems

