

Student Research Assistant(s)

EU H2020 TROPICO project (m/f/div)

The Hertie School of Governance is an international teaching and research center of excellence that prepares students for leadership positions in government, business, and civil society. An internationally recruited faculty, interdisciplinary in outlook, research, and teaching, offers analytically challenging and practice-oriented courses on governance, policy analysis, management, and leadership. As a professional school, Hertie School faculty has a strong commitment to high-quality teaching. Our goal is to help students grow intellectually in a professional, research-intensive environment, characterized by public debate and engagement.

The Hertie School of Governance is looking for

Student Research Assistants – EU H2020 TROPICO project (m/f/div)

The contract will start in May 2019 for a period of three months. Working hours amount to 10h/week.

The EU H2020 funded project Transforming Into Open, Innovative and Collaborative Governments (TROPICO) is an international research consortium investigating how public administrations are transformed to enhance collaboration in policy design and service delivery, advancing the participation of public, private and societal actors. It will analyse collaboration in and by governments, with a special emphasis on the use of information and communication technologies (ICT), and its consequences from a comparative perspective (<http://tropico-project.eu>).

Your tasks:

- Analysing and coding national digital strategies
- Participating in regular meetings and exchanges on the coding strategy and coding protocol
- Participation in training sessions on qualitative coding using the MaxQDA software

Your profile:

- Excellent command of English and one of the following languages: Dutch or Estonian.
- Enrolled at a university for the duration of the contract
- Master's student in Political Science, Public Administration, Public Policy or related Social Sciences
- Experience with qualitative coding strongly appreciated

We offer you

A stimulating international and diverse environment in multiple areas of social science, high-quality teaching and public policy. The Hertie School is a vibrant academic community that emphasizes excellence in research and teaching as well as an interdisciplinary perspective. Our school has been certified as a family friendly work environment in higher education and an equal opportunity employer (www.hertie-school.org for further information).
